Marx – Utopianism and Living Culture

By Karl Marx (1961, published based on writings in the 1840s – 60s, by New York University)

I. The first process of production in utopianism of intellectual lives

I mean writing and perhaps radio, as a production process, with utopianism of healthcare reports, and even news, everything in it.

II. The next process of production in Golden Editions of Nietszche

Perhaps the Golden Edition means to produce an intellectual life interpretation of university lives which then produces a change in the perception of capital, and companies as educated lives which are capitalistic, and then it also means to walk back home and sense the walk, and bus ride or taxi ride, or even auto ride, while coming back home and living in a rich house, which completes the Marxist journey from university to the house – this means the movement of intellectual life is what Marx is talking about –

Nietzsche, A Comment.

III. Illness and Fever

In fact a Prophet in the 21st century often has fever in his youth and wins eternal health and life. Marx says, I myself imagined this in my youth, that Jewish people live forever.

IV. Stories from Jewish Stories for Marx

Marx studies Jewish stories – one of a business man who gives tips to a capitalist, one of a traveller in a hotel life – one of a young person in school. He keeps arguing, is Jewish behaviour.

V. Golden Edition Again by Marx this occasion

I meant just go to office and get back home, and then see buses and trains even or metroes as in the future. And even imagine life spent in a style of that Friedrich who will read this and make a big deal and fuss about it – just carrying a small notebook and jotting things down, just strolling along. I mean an image of Hebrew intellectual life this way – don’t forget it is all scientific in Marx – even the crisis is adjusted to by demand and supply, which means trade unionism or leftist budgets and such moves.

Vi. Golden Edition – Adventurous Edition

Now imagine a left wing adventure, that it has a crisis this Cuban Communism, and each day works on the plan to keep it going. Now I mean leaders have to respond to Cuba – and people are busy working on trade unions in France. Busy work lives, bustling jolts of crises and the work is always to help Cuba.

Part II – Golden Edition Manuscript – a Three Page Long Draft and Essay on Marx

In fact then I argue, Marx here, that the Golden Edition produces a new view, that Cuba is in crisis, or that France has a criminal trade union problem or that even Spain is in economic crisis or nearly so, and so the work goes on.

I though mean life is spent working in a room and producing manuscripts on this process – but actually people are busy in each country working out problems.

I mean only the militants know this problem. While the Prophet absconds from work and lives well.

He is with his own style of politics alone as hegemony.

Everyone is crazy with work.

Colonial women have sex with the Prophet as they dreamt one day when he is met in a office in Delhi.

The future is also in a sense about the urgency of work, people keep working, that is what I mean by the future is ordained. Absolute work, to be in a crisis.
